

Ben Davy Biography

BEN DAVY is LIFE 100.3's Morning Show Host and Ministry Relations Co-ordinator. Since 1999, Christian Radio listeners in Central Ontario have been waking up to "The Breakfast Club," which he anchors alongside his co-host Woody Woodland, weekday mornings from 5:30-9am.

"I've been hooked on radio since my ninth birthday...the day I woke up to the sound of my first AM/FM clock radio," recalls Ben. "My parents gift-wrapped it and I found it hidden in my headboard! Years later, my ministry training took me to Illinois where I discovered Christian Radio – non-existent in Canada at the time. I remember thinking that if I ever got the chance to become involved with an opportunity like this back home, I would jump at it."

That opportunity came a lot sooner than Ben expected. In 1997, he returned home to begin a church plant with his former youth pastor. Within months, he met Scott Jackson – a radio veteran who had just returned home from the U.S. with a plan to start a Christian Radio station in Barrie.

"It was a moment when I knew God was revealing a future plan for my ministry and my career," explains Ben. "A neon sign couldn't have made it any more clear. I love Jesus, and I love radio. For those two passions to morph into an opportunity like this was absolutely incredible."

Ben also speaks in about 20-25 churches a year, and makes numerous public appearances with the LIFE Street Team. Away from LIFE, Ben also does a few hours of local sports announcing on television, and enjoys playing church softball. He still pledges allegiance to most Chicago-area sports teams, and one of his goals is to see a baseball game in every Major League city! (he's been to eight stadiums so far).

Ben married his lovely wife, Rachelle in 2001, and they have been blessed with two adorable children – BJ and Esther.
